Father Darkleaf's Column

BY C. H. S

Father Darkleaf hears that lots of Appomattox men-folks have upped their ages might by this week. Word that a Draft bill will shortly be enactiod by Congress has spread like wildfire and one local man is reported to have "aged" seven years over-night. The unders and ing is that all men will have to register for the craft, and that selections will be made in na ional lots of 100,000.

N. R. Feathers'on, our traveling reporter tells us that he recently dropped by to see Appomattox county's oldest citizen, C. H. Coleman, 96 year old Confederate veteran. He found Mr. Coleman out in the wheat field, keeping up with the workers and spry as ever. Mr. Coleman is a remarkable man and a undoub odly holder of many farming records. We believe him to be the oldest active farmer in Virginia and the oldest continuous tobacco grower in America. He sold his first crop of tobacco in Farmville in 1859 and save for the years he was in the Confederate army, hasn't missed a season since.

We have found out that we have a former newspaper man in our midst.... the Rev. T. E. Johnson, popular pastor of the Appomattox M. E. Church. Rev. Johnson once published newspapers at Burkeville, Boykins and Gloucester and put in a brief period operating a linotype machine.

In fact, it is remarkable to find how many people have had some connection at some time with a newspaper, usually from the reporting end.

Dr. and Mrs. C. F. James will return Friday after spending a week at Dendron.

Mrs. Annie C. Hogan and daughter, Helen left Saturday for a visit to relatives in Norfolk. Mrs. Hogan has been visiting relatives and friends in Appomattox county for several weeks.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, in the busy hours of Monday afternoon June 24, 1940 our Heavenly Father, in his infinite wisdom, called our friend and co-laborer J. E. Sears from his earthly labors to perfect Peace and Rest, and

Whereas, Mr. Sears was not only one of the best patrons of this Institution, but was a faithful and loyal official, rendering efficient service as a member of its official board,

Therefore, Be It Resolved by The Bank of Appomattox:

1st- That in the untimely passing of Mr. Sears, this institution and the whole community has lost a loyal, enterprising and progressive citizen, who by his forethought and energy has rendered a splendid service not only to this Institution, but to the community at large and his fellowmen.

2nd- That his family has lost the love, affection and devotion of a faithful and devoted husband and father.

3rd- Th Community the services of a Christian gentleman, enterprising business man and citizen.

4th- That we extend our sincere sympathy to his family and loved ones, and pray that an all wise Providence will overshadow them and give them sustaining Grace in their sorrow, realizing that their loss, and our loss, is but his gain.

5th- That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, and a copy spread on the records of this Bank.

2 MILLION TONS LIME

American farmers ordered over two millions tons of liming material under the AAA grant of aid program for June, bringing the total for the year to approximately two million tons. Lime and superphosphate assist in carrying out approved soil building practices.

AAA RECOMMENDATIONS

The AAA has announced that a recent national conference of state committeemen and officials put more emphasis on soil conservation, increased opportunity for county AAA committees to adapt the AAA program to individual farm requirements and strengthening of the Ever-Normal Granary for the 1941 farm program. These recommendations, which will form the basis for specific drafting of program provisions later, do not change the general features of the present AAA program.

New Marriage Law Went Into Effect Today

As evidence of the general rush to Virginia to get marriage licenses before the new law requiring physical examinations went into effect, it was learned that 31 marriage licenses were issued here in June and July, as compared with 11 for the same months last year.

NEW MARRIAGE LAW GOES INTO EFFECT TODAY

The new marriage law, requiring filing of certificates proving that physical examinations have been made by a physician before licenses can be issued, goes into effect today and July.

All persons must have this certificate before county clerk C. W. Smith can issue them a marriage license. The certificate must show that the last was made not more than 30 days prior to the date of application for the license.

It is understood that the serologic tests and examination necessary to obtain a license certificate from a physician will require at least three days.

Necessary forms and certificates are in the hands of the local clerk and physicians.

Virginia Has Draft Set-Up In Readiness

Richmond, July 31.— If and when Congress passes the peacetime compulsory military training program, Virginia will unleash its regular election machinery for registration of all males designated by Congress and local draft boards, some 230 in number, will assist the national government in Virginia, Governor Price announces.

The national plan, unless changed, calls for sizing up 151 local selective service boards throughout Virginia, four boards of appeal located at Richmond, Norfolk, Roanoke and Charlottesville and 42 medical advisory boards and also an advisory board of three lawyers for each of the state's 34 judicial circuits who will advise registrants of their legal rights.

The plan provides that the Governor on call from the President appoint the boards. Actually the Governor will recommend citizens for the task and the President will make the appointments. Printing forms are ready and contracts can be let as soon as Congress gives its approval, the Governor points out.

Busy Checking Performances

Performance checking on farms throughout the state that are participating in the AAA program is progressing rapidly. Farmers have been requested to give supervisors all cooperation and aid possible in making an accurate and efficient check, which will greatly facilitate receipts of payments.

Many Attend Rural Institute At Blacksburg

A large delegation from Appomattox county attended the annual Institute of Rural Affairs this week in Blacksburg. Among those from here were: R. B. Hudgins; J. F. Blair; Miss Ella Smith; Elmo Johnson; W. J. LeGrand; R. E. Redding; John E. Burnette; Rufus Burnette; J. F. Alvis Jr.; Melvin Caldwell; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Drinkard; Mr. and Mrs. J. R Horsley; Mrs. J. T. Hix; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Marshall; Mrs. M. L. Garstie and Mrs. Berkley Drinkard. The group left here Tuesday afternoon.

The general theme of this year's Institute was "The Interdependence of Agriculture, Industry and Labor."

Various problems pertaining directly to the farm and social welfare of farm families came before the Institute for special attention. Special features were planned for members of the home demonstration clubs.

Cut 10 Per Cent In AAA Benefit Payments

In order that payments will not exceed available funds, rates of payment and deductions under the Agricultural Conservation program will be 10 per cent less than the tentative rates indicated last November when the Virginia quota for 1940 was issued, says S. K. Cassell, state executive officer.

The revision of rates was made under the provision that the rates of payment are subject to the appropriation available, and to upward or downward adjustment for participation by as much as 10 per cent.

Congress authorized the use of a portion of the appropriation for the 1940 program for the completion of payments under the 1939 program. Larger than anticipated participation in 1939 and the need for advances in connection with the grant of aid and crop insurance program for this year made the transfer of funds necessary. The result is a decrease in the amount available for 1940 program payments, which is somewhat larger than estimated participation in the 1940 program, makes the rate revision necessary.

Payments which are under $200 after being computed at the revised rates will be increased in accordance with the small payment provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Parity payments which are made under a separate appropriation are not affected.

Upward and downward adjustments in payments have been made in previous years. Rates of payment were increased 10 per cent in 1937 on the basis of similar provisions.

$34,000 By-Pass Road To Be Constructed At Surrender Grounds

Hubert A. Gurney, Superintendent of the new National Park Service area at Appomattox, announced today that the Park Service had allocated the sum of $34,000 from its road and trail fund for the construction of a By-Pass Highway skirting the Old Court House Village.

This stretch of road is a necessary feature of the Surrender Grounds development. It will be a by-pass of Route 24 and will be constructed by the Park Service and turned over, to the state for maintenance.

The survey of the by-pass is now in progress and construction is expected to proceed upon completion of the survey. This $34,000 will not come from the $ approximate $90000 in the restoration fund, but is from the separate road and trail fund of the Park Service.

It is understood that the by-pass road will be some 65,000 feet long and will skirt to the east of the Old Court House.

The road will be of the same type as the present Route 24. When it is completed it is understood that all through traffic will be routed through this by-pass road. This is in keeping with the historical accuracy of the restoration because natives there was no hard surface through the Old Court House Village at the time of the Surrender. The entrance to the restored Old Court House Circle will be along an original road from the east.

Mr. Gurney also announced today that the men of the Civilian Conservation Corps Camp NP28, Company 1251, will begin work on July 31. The men; Negro veterans of the World War; were transferred from Yorktown; arrive July 22. Since then they have been cleaning up the camp and moving in.

The Project Superintendent is Earl I. Corner. Junior Historical Technician Relph Happel has been assigned to the area with the camp. Both of these men have been with the Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania Military Park for the past several years.

The final job to be done in the Monument area is fire hazard reduction. After the clean-up of the area, both restoration of old buildings and the rehabilitation of standing historical structures are proposed. Within a few years the "deserted village" of Old Appomattox Court House will look as nearly as the Park Service can make it like the shire country community where General Robert E. Lee surrendered the Army of Northern Virginia and ended an era in American history, April 9, 1865.

Preliminary architectural work, including measurement of all standing historical buildings has been under way for several weeks, under the supervision of Junior Architect A. V. Alexander of the National Park Service Regional Office at Richmond.

Democratic Nominees Plan Campaign Strategy

Unlike Republican presidential nominee presidential nominees Wendell L. Willkie and Sen. Charles L. McNary who had never met before their selection as the party's 1940 standard bearers, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Henry A. Wallace, the Democratic candidates, have been closely associated in the past seven and a half years. President Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace are shown above conferring on strategy for the coming campaign in which the President will seek a third term.

Tuck To Be Invited To Address Local Democratic Banquet

Watkins M. Abbitt, president of the Young Democratic Club of Appomattox County, announced last night that State Senator William M. Tuck, of Halifax, a leading prospect for Governor next year, would be invited to be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Club and that the banquet would probably be held the third week in August. Arrangements for the serving of the banquet and the exact date will be announced next week.

The annual membership drive is already under way, with Miss Eula Mae Burke and George F. Abbitt Jr. heading the ticket committees.

'41 Flue-Cured Quota Is 618 Million Pounds

Secretary Henry A. Wallace proclaimed a quota on flue cured tobacco for the 1941-42 marketing season of 556 million pounds, with the provision that the quota be raised to 618 million if growers approved marketing quotas for the three years 1941-43. Growers assured a 618 million pound quota for the 1941 crop by their approval of three-year quotas.

Eighth Annual Virginia Holstein Field Day

Blacksburg, July 30.- The eighth annual field day of the Virginia Holstein Club will be held at East View Farm, Harrisonburg on Wednesday August 14.

"It is very fitting that the field day be held at the Myers' farm," says P. M. Reaves, assistant dairy husbandman of the Virginia Agricultural fxtension Division, "as it is a small farm with a small herd of splendid cattle that have been developed under practical farm conditions. It is hoped that a large number of breeders and dairymen in the state will attend this field day in order to see the development with a small herd of cattle."

I. D. Myers and Son have been breeding Holstein cattle for 20 years. A great deal of the development was done through 4-H Club work. The herd has maintained high production levels in D. H. I. A. testing over a long period of time. They have done considerable showing of their cattle not only at fairs in Virginia but in several neighboring states.

This event has been an annual affair for the past seven years and attracts a large number of Holstein breeders and dairymen, Reaves says.
